TO MRS. J. MILTON BROWNE.

No. 16857.
In the Chancery Court at Chattanooga, Tennessee.
Mrs. Annette Baxter
vs.
Mrs. J. Milton Browne et al.

In this cause, it appearing from the return of the sheriff upon the subpoena issued in this cause that search has been made for the defendant Mrs. J. Milton Browne, and that she is not to be found in this county; and an affidavit having been filed in the cause from which it appears that said defendant is temporarily absent from said state, so that process cannot be served upon her, and an attachment having been issued and levied upon certain property of said defendant, she is, therefore, ordered to appear on or before the first Monday of July next, before the clerk and master of said court and make defense to the bill filed against her in said cause; and if she fails to appear, or otherwise the bill will be taken for confessed.

It is further ordered that this notice be published for four consecutive weeks in The Chattanooga News.

This June 1, 1918.

SAM ERWIN,
Clerk and Master.

SEIZE ALL RICHES AND END HUNGER

Bolshevik Premier Tells Poor Peasants to Force Affluent to Give Up Bread.

"AUTOCRACY OF WEALTH"

Declares That If Soviet Regime Lives Three Months It Will Last Forever.

(By Arthur Ransome.)

Moscow.—At a meeting of the soviet committees with representatives of the labor organizations yesterday, Premier Lenin outlined the soviet policy to overcome hunger. There must be a campaign of agitation in the country, he declared, and a general organization of poor peasants for the final destruction of the autocracy of rich peasants. In the villages, he charged, rich peasants, and not the poor, are holding back bread. He referred to the skepticism of last October, when the bolsheviks were advised not to take power because they would be unable to hold it for two weeks.

"We took it and, to the anger of our enemies, lived through not two weeks in difficulties and struggles, but seven months. There are most difficult times before us, but we will live through them. And to live through these three months is to establish the soviet republic forever."

Gen. Mirlach, admitting that Gen. Krasnov had asked the Germans for help, has officially informed the commissariat of foreign affairs at Moscow that the request has been definitely refused. From Kieff it is learned that Gen. Elchikov is in favor of giving military help to Gen. Krasnov, but German diplomacy opposes him.

Some help has actually been given. The Germans helped Krasnov to push back the soviet troops from the river, suburbs at Krasnov's capital, Rostov. Krasnov's capital is now no longer under steady fire from the light artillery of his subjects.

Soviet circles in Moscow are convinced there was a close connection between Krasnov's move in the Don region and the action of the Czechoslovaks in seizing a number of stations of the Eastern railway, although they fully recognize that the Czechoslovaks probably for the most part were unaware of the use being made of them.

The Czechoslovak representative at Moscow admits that the reason for delay in sending them to Vladivostok was the Semenov disturbances on the Manchurian frontier and danger lest those well disciplined troops should be used, on the arrival in the east, against the soviet.

Certain officers tried to stir up dissatisfaction over the fact that after the conflict here at Czechoslovakia, years at Czechoslovakia were ordered to travel unarmed except for ordinary guards.

The strategic significance of their action is temporary, cutting off Russia from the Ural, but at Ural they already are disarmed and complete liquidation of the affair is expected within a few days.

French officers are to sit on the commission of inquiry. The political significance of these incidents indirectly increases the difficulties of food transportation. This, of course, is directly to the advantage of Germany because, unlike previous discontents, such as the bolshevik discontent of last summer, the present unrest carries with it no definite political government. Its object, at least the object with which it is fanned by counter revolutionaries, is to throw out the soviet. It has nothing with which to replace them. After the soviet will come the deluge, and after the deluge, reactions—German working from Kieff.
